Prof. Omotoye Joe O. Omokheyeke, MA-MIS, MCP, PVTCA

Professor Omokheyeke was born and raised in Lagos, Nigeria. He came to US in 1984 with a student visa and a 4year academic scholarship to study at Blackburn University in Carlinville, Illinois. Currently, he holds dual citizenship (US & Nigerian Passports). He is an Independent IT Professional CONSULTANT focusing on educational technology, LAN/WAN, database system analysis, design, implementation, e-commerce/Multi-Media and learning management systems administration and end user corporate training. He did a contractual overseas project for Chevron Cabinda Gulf Oil & Gas Company in Angola, near South Africa as Q4 Safety System Trainer/Site Administrator (2008-2011). He taught Information Systems & Technology courses at University of Phoenix online and Management courses on-ground for 8 years. Currently, he teaches computer applications at Lone Star College (Cy-fair) in Cypress Texas.

Prior to teaching, he had over 10 years of diversified Information technology working experience both in private and public sectors. Other places he had worked include Liberty Careers Institute as Test Administrator, Texas Education Agency (TEA) as System Analyst, Tomball College as Technology Support Services Administrator, Smith Kline Beecham, as Operation Systems Analyst, COMPAQ Incorporation as Systems Support Technician, and Blackburn University as Data Processing Supervisor. During this time, he installed, designed, configured, maintained, implement, support and trained personnel in major Windows client-server systems including help desk, computer project management and various business systems applications. He has been Microsoft certified professional (MCP) in Windows NT 4.0 sever systems implementation and administration since April 2000. He Completed Certificate in Teaching English as a Foreign Language (TEFL) in December 2005.

As a lifelong learner, he completed 68 credit hours of Post Graduate advanced online education in June 2017 towards Doctorate (terminal) degree in Educational Leadership with specialization in Educational Technology. He earned a Master 's degree in Management Information Systems from University of Illinois@ Springfield, Illinois in 1992, Bachelor's degree, double major in Economics and Business Administration from Blackburn University in Carlinville, Illinois in 1987.

In his spare time, he engaged in ET Research, Family matters. His first book titled Systems Analysis, Design, and Implementation has been accepted for Publication by Page Publishing Incorporation.